Multipanel introduces 44 new decors and 2 new collections across its wall panel range

Multipanel, the UK's leading bathroom wall panel brand, has launched 44 new decors across its wall panel range, including marble, minerals, solid colours and 16 new décors in the Tile Collection, which is the first and only tile-effect wall panel to be both Made in Britain and Forest Stewardship Council (FSC® C128180) certified.

Reflecting the latest interior trends and the growing demand for bathroom wall panels, Multipanel has added a herringbone and metro tile effect to its Tile Collection. Additionally, a colour range has been added to Multipanel's offering, including trend-led Antique Rose, Misty Blue and Sage Green., which will allow homeowners to add character to a bathroom with a bolder statement.

For those who like the range of styles available in the Tile Collection, but without the precision-etched grout line aesthetic of tile-effect panels, Multipanel have added a new 'Pure' collection, with the surface designs of the Tile Collection, with no grout lines.

Other decors have been added across the Linda Barker range including three new striking marbles. A new Contemporary Collection has been introduced which focusses on elegance and comfort, that features three decors from their pre-existing Classic Premier range and two new decors designed to evoke the sense of peace.

The new decors are available in a range of sizes, to suit any size of bathroom. The versatile in decors now offers greater possibilities for creating contemporary bathrooms, without compromising on ease of installation, maintenance and performance.

Bathroom panels provide a 100% waterproof surface, they don't require grout, they are quicker to install, and they last longer—all without compromising on style. They are a modern and sustainable alternative to traditional tiles: using bathroom panels instead of tiles saves on average 15 installation hours per bathroom and positively contributes to accelerating home completion timescales, as well as reducing snagging issues.

John Mortimer Managing Director at Grant Westfield, the makers of Multipanel, says and curator of the new collections: "We are delighted to be diversifying our offering with these new decors. As more homeowners become familiar with the aesthetic and performance benefits of panels, we identified the need to provide more design and trend-led options, to suit any taste, size of space and budget.

“To be able to bring these new decors to market in response to growing demand for our products is something we are very proud of. It is important to us to be able to continue to innovate, and to design and manufacture products that are state of the art in terms of performance, style and sustainability.”

Lidia Cetrangolo Marketing Manager commented:

“Each of these new decors has been designed and manufactured with the latest trends in mind. We want to ensure that we have as many options as possible for our customers, no matter what they’re after.

Our new brochure also has a guide for matching panels, which makes it easy for homeowners to mix and match panels to achieve their dream bathroom. Our bathroom panels are designed to be simple to install, being both waterproof and featuring an almost seamless Hydrolock joint, and the panels can even be suitable for DIY, as we offer a free training course so anyone can learn to install our panels safely.”
